

Editorial Notice

Dear Colleagues,

About 30 medical journals published in our country are included in SCI-Expanded. The Web of Science evaluation has reported the impact factor of Turkish Neurosurgery as 0.529. This value was determined using the references made to the publications of 2013. According to this result, our journal occupies 8th rank in the abovementioned issue. I would like to congratulate all authors who contributed to the success of our journal, the referees who provided the evaluations, and also those who contributed on behalf of the editorial board.

We have limited the video presentation to be added to articles to 40 MB but we plan to increase this capacity in the future. I would like to remind the authors that they can use the <https://www.wetransfer.com/> address when they need to upload a file above this limit.

We continue to introduce valuable historical monuments of Istanbul in the neuroexcursion section. This issue presents the Turkish and Islamic Art Museum in the Palace of Ibrahim Pasha that hosts a large number of valuable works. You will find interesting news on basic neurosciences in the same section.

I respectfully look forward to seeing you all again in the next issue.

Deniz BELEN
