

Cezmi Çađrı TÜRK was born in Adana, Türkiye. He graduated from Marmara University, School of Medicine in 2001 and completed his residency training in the Department of Neurosurgery at Hacettepe University in 2007. During the residency, he visited Zurich University hospital for microsurgery course and Barrow Neurological institutes for short periods as an observer. After completing his residency training, he worked and studied at Haydarpaşa Numune Training and Research hospital for two years. During this time, he attended the observership program at Kolkata Daradia Pain Clinic in India, mentored by Gautam DAS. Later, he work in Samsun Çarşamba State hospital as attending neurosurgeon for 1 year. Subsequently, He was appointed as Chief of Residency at Antalya Training and Research Hospital. He also visited epilepsy center at Freiburg University as an observer. Currently, he holds the position of Chief of Neurosurgery Clinic and coordinator of Residency Training for Neurosurgery at the same hospital where he is a Faculty member at the University of Health Sciences, Department of Neurosurgery in Antalya. He is also a member of the Committee for Core Curriculums of Specializations in Medicine and Dentistry, Neurosurgery Section under the Expert Board in Medicine (TUKMOS). His areas of interest include Epilepsy Surgery and Surgery for Cranial pathologies.