

Sinan BAHADIR was born in Trabzon, Türkiye. He received his doctor of medicine degree at Hacettepe University, School of Medicine in 2003 and completed his residency training in the Department of Neurosurgery at Hacettepe University in 2010. During military service, he attended microsurgery course at GATA. He completed state's compulsory work at Bafra State Hospital and moved on to working at Tokat State Hospital. In 2018 he started to work as an assistant professor in Department of Neurosurgery at Amasya University Faculty of Medicine. During his academic carrier, he completed a fellowship in clinical spine surgery in the Department of Orthopaedics and Neurosurgery at Ankara Spine Center under Profs. Emre Acaroglu and Selcuk Palaoglu and obtained Eurospine Basic Diploma from Turkish Spine Society. He achieved associate professor degree in 2023 and still working at Amasya University Faculty of Medicine.